The Grand Duke Sir James Jameson VII, is a very rich and powerful man, and loves nothing more than a good tale of adventure. Word of the great deeds and adventurous spirit of several individuals has reached his ear and intrigued him. Thus, he has decided to throw a grand ball on May 2nd in honor of these adventurers. He has sent invitations to those he felt worthy of attendance. His personal barge, the Gweein, will set sail to pick up the selected travelers and deliver them safely to the palace, where there is to be much celebrating and rewards to those that impress him. All that the adventurers must bring to show their worth are the personal invitations from the Grand Duke himself.

But, what if an adventure finds them before they reach the palace gates?

To Free a Lady is a fun little game designed to be a light, low risk contrast to the amazing game by Courtney Miller, Into the Woods. This will be a Star Course, i.e. a modified world course game. The level range is for low levels, 1-2, so if you have had a character in mind that you wanted to make, or haven't had a chance to play in a while, here's a great opportunity to play those PCs. All alignments are welcomed. There are a limited number of PC slots available because of the nature of the game, so please commit to participating no later than the 18th of April (the day of the board meeting). The game will take place at Cecil B. Winter Park in Garland, TX, the directions are on the website, and a map will be sent out with later information for those who commit to the game.

This is my first attempt at writing a game, and I truly hope that you enjoy it, whether you plan on NPCing or PCing. If you wish to join in the fun, please email me at baburioppai@gmail.com with your name, and indicate if you plan on PCing or NPCing - no later than April 18th. This is essential to make sure that everyone who wants to play, can play. PCs please include your PC name and what level/class you are. If you can make the subject of the email, To Free a Lady NPC/PC, that would be absolutely AMAZING!

So come on out and show everyone that chivalry isn't dead, at least not in the IFGS!
